[†]S&P Quality Rankings System has attempted to reflect the long-term growth and stability of a company's earnings and dividends. The rankings are generated using a computerized system based on a company's per-share earnings and dividends record across the most recent 10 years. The system focuses on earnings and dividend performance, and does not reflect all of the factors that may bear on the quality of a company. Basic scores are computed for earnings and dividends, and then adjusted by a set of predetermined modifiers for changes in the rate of growth, stability over long periods, and cyclicality. Adjusted scores are then combined to produce a final ranking. The Quality Ranking Scale is as follows: A+ Highest, A High, A- Above Average, B+ Average, B Below Average, B- Lower, C Lowest, D In Reorganization, LIQ Liquidation. A Note about Risk: The value of investments in equity securities will fluctuate in response to general economic conditions and to changes in the prospects of particular companies, including market, liquidity, currency, and political risks. Mid-cap company stocks tend to be more volatile and may be less liquid than large-cap company stocks. Mid-cap companies typically experience a higher risk of failure than large-cap companies. However, larger companies may be unable to respond quickly to certain market developments and may have slower rates of growth compared with smaller successful companies. A company's dividend payments may vary over time, and there is no guarantee that a company will pay a dividend at all. These factors can adversely affect Fund performance.

S&P 900® 10-Year Dividend Growth Index is a subset of the S&P 900 Index. The index consists of large and midsize companies that have a 10-year history of dividend issuance and growth, and that meet certain other criteria.

The Dividend Growth Index represents a considerably narrower investable universe than the S&P 900 Index because of these stringent criteria. The Dividend Growth Index is a custom index that was developed at the request of Lord Abbett. The Dividend Growth Index is the exclusive property of Standard & Poor's Financial Services LLC. Under a contract with Lord Abbett, S&P administers, maintains, and calculates the Dividend Growth Index. S&P and its affiliates shall have no liability for any errors or omissions in calculating the index.

The S&P 500® Index is widely regarded as the standard for measuring large-cap U.S. stock market performance.

Morningstar Large Blend Category Average: Large-blend portfolios are fairly representative of the overall U.S. stock market in size, growth rates, and price. Stocks in the top 70% of the capitalization of the U.S. equity market are defined as large cap. The blend style is assigned to portfolios where neither growth nor value characteristics predominate. These portfolios tend to invest across the spectrum of U.S. industries, and owing to their broad exposure, the portfolios' returns are often similar to those of the S&P 500 Index.

The Morningstar Rating™ for funds, or "star rating", is calculated for managed products (including mutual funds, variable annuity and variable life subaccounts, exchange-traded funds, closed-end funds, and separate accounts) with at least a three-year history. Exchange-traded funds and open-ended mutual funds are considered a single population for comparative purposes. It is calculated based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a managed product's monthly excess performance, placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of products in each product category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars, and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. The Overall Morningstar Rating for a managed product is derived from a weighted average of the performance figures associated with its three-, five-, and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. The weights are: 100% three-year rating for 36-59 months of total returns, 60% five-year rating/40% three-year rating for 60-119 months of total returns, and 50% 10-year rating/30% five-year rating/20% three-year rating for 120 or more months of total returns. While the 10-year overall star rating formula seems to give the most weight to the 10-year period, the most recent three-year period actually has the greatest impact because it is included in all three rating periods. Ratings do not take into account the effects of sales charges and loads.

The Lipper Equity Income Funds Average is composed of funds that, by prospectus language and portfolio practice, seek relatively high current income and growth of income by investing at least 65% of their portfolio in dividend-paying equity securities.

Standard deviation: A statistical measurement of the range of a fund's total returns. In general, a higher standard deviation means greater volatility.

Dividend policy: the S&P 900 10-Year Dividend Growth Index is reconstituted each January, defining dividend growers by comparing a stock's annual dividends per share to dividends per share in the year prior.
